"The Boys' Store."

A Prince of Boys

As a movie star little 5-year-old Jackie Coogan has set the world afire. Every boy has seen or heard about "The Kid" who is the pal of Charlie Chaplin.

But besides that he is a wonderful little fellow, with a great love for his parents and one of the best-dressed little boys in the world. He says:

"I'm too young to know a whole lot about clothes but Mother knows what's right and what's best for a kid to wear. That's why she selected the clothes that are now named after me—Jackie Coogan clothes. Now that I know how fine they are, I want to wear them always."

Y. M. C. A. THREE-DAYS CONFERENCE UNDER WAY

One of First Needs Is Need of Employment.

STATE SECRETARY SAYS IN BANQUET ADDRESS

Y. M. C. A. Would Not Only Procure a Job, but Make the Man Fit for It.

"Let's Go" week of the Y. M. C. A. was given an enthusiastic start at the banquet last night for trustees, directors and committeemen at the dining-room on the third floor of the Y. M. C. A. building. Frank Glosser was chairman of the assembly. Blessing was asked by Rev. George M. Landis, associate pastor of Trinity Baptist church.

Immediately following the banquet Chairman Glosser introduced J. R. Rhodes, of Columbus, general secretary of the state association, who gave the address of the evening.

Mr. Rhodes said in part:

"I don't mind asking people for money, when we are having a drive because we are doing a righteous thing. Tonight we are not going to raise money. We are going to do more than that. We are going to ask men to volunteer, themselves.

"In the early days in our civilization, men depended very little upon money. The apostles of our Lord radiated His spirit, not because of money, but because they put themselves into their work. The life of this organization depends upon the consecration of the individual members to make their lives count for the kingdom of God.

Why It Exists.

"This association does not exist by accident. There is the need in the lives of boys and young men that must be filled. This building is the expression of that need. Tonight we will consider some of the homely needs of the every day man.

"One of the first needs is the need of employment. Not only to secure a job, but to make him fit to fill his job. Then there are the thousands of young men, from twenty to twenty-five, who are away from home that the association must substitute as home for, poor substitution though it be. There are those who are not enjoying flush health, and the games, exercises and swims will help them. Others need education while still others need to learn to play.

Y. M. C. A. Is To Cooperate.

"The Y. M. C. A. is to cooperate with the already organized branches of human society, rather than to compete with them. This organization has lived seventy years because its strength is in the number of men giving their time to meet the needs of boys and young men in our cities. It is an opportunity to put Christ into the lives of the boys.

"In the next three days we are going to have committee meetings which, to be successful, must have every member present. You who are on committees must consider three questions. The first, 'What are the needs of young men in Marion today, and how far are they already being met?' The second, 'What should this association do to meet those needs?' The third, 'How are we going to do it?'"

A plan to change the methods of representation of associations at the international conventions, which would make the assembly smaller, was unanimously defeated.

Sunday-School Orchestra Plays.

Music during the banquet was furnished by the orchestra of Calvary Sunday-school. The banquet was served by Mrs. Frank Thomas, assisted by Mrs. Frank Tschanen, and Mrs. Anna Ellicker.

The membership committee met at noon today and the physical committee will meet at 6:15 this evening. Wednesday there will be a meeting of ministers and laymen at noon, a meeting of the religious-work committee at 6:15 p. m. and a meeting of the social work committee at 8 p. m.

Thursday there will be a meeting of the boys' work leaders at 6:15 p. m. and a meeting of the boys' work committee at 8 p. m.

Legion To Have Something To Say on Disarmament.

A BIG CAMPAIGN FOR BONUS MEASURE

Toledo Convention of American Legion Members Gets Down to Business Today.—Great Parade is Staged Today.

Toledo, Sept. 27.—Plans for a state and national [illegible] the state for the [illegible] of the compensation [illegible] adopted by the [illegible] of the American Legion [illegible] America as [illegible] reminder for the Washington [illegible] for a [illegible] the national [illegible].

The convention [illegible] may have something to say about the national disarmament conference. While every [illegible] is opposed to war, legion members say they have a right to be heard on disarmament and that the protection of America is the first essential in any disarmament program.

The convention got down to business today, with consideration of resolutions and election of officers on the program.

John J. Priddy, Findlay, apparently is the choice of northwestern Ohio for state commander. Others mentioned are Ralph D. Cole, of Findlay; Robert R. Roberts, of Youngstown; Victor Heintz and William Myers, of Cincinnati and the present commander, Brigadier General McQuigg, of Cleveland.

Renew Allegiance.

Toledo, Sept. 27.—Five thousand former service men of Ohio, members of the American Legion, yesterday, renewed their allegiance to the flag for which they served by marching through Toledo streets, transformed for the afternoon into lanes, the sides of which were formed by nearly 100,000 persons.

The American Legion was born of his ideas. It is less than three years old. The way has been hard and is hard today.

But the idea is bigger than any or all difficulties. It is that of continuing the service of the veteran into times of peace to help make a better America. And when the legionaires get discouraged at what seems slow progress they attend a convention and march in parade with the old uniform and get all warmed up again.

That's what is happening in Toledo right now. Legion delegates from all over Ohio are renewing their enthusiasm over the idea on which they have spent so much effort, and have come to the realization that their efforts have been worth while and 10,000 Toledans were likewise convinced.

Governor Reviews Parade.

The parade was reviewed by Gov- [illegible] Chairman W. W. Cole- [illegible] Frank [illegible] Cleve. He was [illegible] of the army, state [illegible] Commander [illegible] of the [illegible] and the [illegible] of Ohio.

Put into the Bank the Money you have put in the Fire

THIS is a characteristic of rich men:

A rich man never hesitates to throw away old equipment if he can save money by doing so.

One of the richest bankers in the United States took out the ten-year old boiler from his cellar this Summer and installed a new heating plant made by this Company. Why? Because by doing so he can save about one-third of what he has been spending for coal.

Yet families of modest means go on heating their homes with old furnaces or stoves and suppose they are being economical.

It is false economy.

You can put into the bank every winter one-third of what you are now putting into the fire.

You can—with ARCOLA. ARCOLA is the wonderful new heating invention for small homes, with or without basements, that takes the place of a furnace or stoves. By its one fire, connected with American Radiators, it fills every room with healthful hot-water warmth and provides an abundance of hot water for washing and bathing besides. It burns any kind of fuel.

One-third of your fuel is worth saving. See ARCOLA today.

The red and yellow card at the right is the sign of a Heating or Sanitary Engineer (formerly called Steamfitter or Plumber) who can show you ARCOLA. Look for it in his window.

It will pay you to consult him twice a year as you do your Doctor or Dentist. To have him examine and report on your heating and plumbing costs little. It may save you a very great deal.

F. A. STENGEL UNCOVERS INDIAN BURIAL GROUND

With Assistance of C. E. Swihart and Son.

WHO MAKE DISCOVERY NEAR UPPER SANDUSKY

A grave, in which was found the bones of six Indians, unearthed in a gravel bank on the C. E. Swihart farm, along the Sandusky river, about six miles southeast of Upper Sandusky, Monday afternoon. An arrow still pierced the side of one of the skulls.

Men have been hauling gravel out of the bank for the construction of a new water-bound road, and Mr. Swihart, noticing some bones sticking up through the gravel, telephoned F. A. Stengel, Monday, that he thought he had unearthed an Indian burial place. Mr. Stengel drove to the Swihart farm in the afternoon and, together with Mr. Swihart and his son, found an Indian burial place with square sides and rounding bottom, containing the bones and skulls of six Indians. The position of the bones indicated that the bodies had been thrown into the grave without much care. The bones were not in a good state of preservation, but the high cheek bone of the skulls proved them without a doubt to be those of Indians.

In the grave were also found about seventy stone beads and four arrows. In the bottom of the grave was charcoal and charred corn, which indicated that some kind of a burial ceremony had been performed.

The Swihart farm is the last strip of land owned by the Wyandot Indians in Ohio and is known as the Pipetown farm, owing to Captain Pipe being buried there. The grave of Captain Pipe lies within 100 yards of the Indian grave found yesterday.

The men gathered the bones together and took them back of the bank and buried them close to the grave of Captain Pipe. Mr. Stengel brought the skull pierced with the arrow, home with him and expects to send it to the state Archeological society.

IMPROVEMENT BETWEEN THIS CITY AND GALION

Permanent Work on Harding Highway Next Year.

C. J. Gugler, president of the Harding Highway association, has returned from Columbus, where he conferred with L. C. Herrick, state highway commissioner, as a representative of both the Galion Automobile club and the Harding Highway association in the matter of making additional road improvements in this locality, says Monday's Galion Inquirer. [illegible] among other matters that the state road south would be repaired at once for the winter, from Galion to the Morrow county line.

During the conference between Messrs. Herrick and Gugler, in the former's office, that gentleman announced that the highway route, between Columbus and Cleveland for the winter had been definitely decided. The route from Columbus touches Delaware, Ashley, Cardington, Mt. Gilead, Galion, Crestline, Shelby, Plymouth, thence on to Cleveland. A dirt [illegible] Norwalk to Toledo, so that Galion is a point between Columbus and both Toledo and Cleveland.

All available equipment is now being concentrated by the state highway department on the highway that touches the places above mentioned. Work started today on the state road which will be put in passable condition for the winter, which means a better road to Mt. Gilead than now. From Galion to Crestline and Shelby there will soon be two routes, out on north Market [illegible] and Crestline, or out the [illegible] road to Burgener's where the road now being improved will be opened ere long, it is anticipated.

The repairing of the stretch of road to the Morrow county line will improve a portion of the Harding highway to Marion. It is quite likely that permanent improvements will be made on the route between Galion and Marion where needed, during next year.

O. P. Beck, C. J. Gugler and W. P. Kimble will go to Lima, tomorrow, to attend a meeting of the Harding Highway association.

Eight of the young people of the Bethlehem grange will give a play "All a Mistake" at the grange hall October 5.

The Retort Oak Coal Heater

carries a magazine and the coal is transformed to coke before it reaches the fire pot. There is absolutely no wasting of fuel as the gases, soot and smoke are consumed in the stove.

The least amount of fuel is consumed in the "Retort" and your fire is as steady as a hard coal base burner and you fill no oftener.

This heater will hold fire for sixty hours with one filling.

If you are looking for economy, also a satisfactorily heated home, buy a Retort.

HOSE GO UP AS MERCURY DROPS, SAY MARION GIRLS

Fair Damsels Are Discarding Summer Fad.

Stockings are going up but not in price. The fair damsels of Marion have been doffing their cool sheer hosiery with a summer decree of fashion have discarded a fad.

There's a reason. It's none other than the advent of cooler nights, which paves the way for winter weather. The crisp air, zephyrs and the roll-top style in stockings won't go with comfort if left exposed.

So the girls, who are willing to let common sense rule in matter of style and comfort, are pulling the "roll" into the fold and "Ere long" 'tis said, the fad will disappear entirely.

That's the story the damsels tell for confirmation, just a stroll on the down town streets or anywhere else young women gather.

LARUE CHURCH SOCIETY MEMBERS ENTERTAINED

News from LaRue and Country Round About.

LaRue, O., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—The Home and Foreign Missionary societies and the Ladies Guild of the Presbyterian church held an interesting and well-attended meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. D. Clifton. Mrs. Hart Johnson read a letter from the missionary in India to whose support the LaRue missionary society contributes. Miss Schotte read a carefully prepared and very instructive twelve-page paper entitled "A World-wide Review of Foreign Missions," and Mrs. Alt closed the program with her report from the meeting of Marion Presbytery, held at Spring Hill Monday and Tuesday. A social hour followed the program. Mrs. Clifton was assisted in entertaining and serving by Miss Marie Clifton and Miss Elma Kramer.

Word of the death of H. L. Rhoads September 10 at Fullerton, California, has reached LaRue, where he resided before going to California about thirty years ago. While here he was agent for the Big Four and will be remembered by the older residents.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Smiley and daughter, Thelma, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Mather, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Thew, Mrs. W. F. Holliday, Mrs. John Weist and Mrs. Essie Williams were among the relatives and friends from this place who attended the funeral of Miss Laura Morrison, fifteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hosea Morrison, residing southwest of Hepburn. The funeral was held at the home and burial made in the Wolf Creek cemetery, near Mt. Victory.

Mrs. D. D. Clifton will entertain the members of the Embroidery club at her home Thursday afternoon, September 29. This will be the first meeting of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Terry, Mr. and Mrs. John Alt and Mr. Max Codding, represented the local Presbyterian church at the yearly meeting of Presbytery, held at Spring Hill, Monday and Tuesday.

Twenty-nine years ago Prof. R. B. Bennett was superintendent of the LaRue public schools. Last Sunday morning, accompanied by his wife, daughter and son-in-law, Mrs. Leland Bennett, he visited LaRue, attended public worship at the Methodist church and visited old friends. Their present home is in Westerville.

The following were among the relatives and friends who attended the funeral service held over the remains of Private Fred D. Thornburg held at the home of his mother, Mrs. M. D. Thornburg, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock: Mr. W. P. Leonard, and Daisy Sipple, of Lorain, Mrs. W. H. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. George McGuire, Mr. Frank Foster, J. P. Postle, Mrs. B. M. Arriving Daily—Gay Hosts of Beautiful New Dresses and Coats All Marked at Remarkably Low Prices

Just a Peep at What Is Going to be En Vogue This Fall & Winter

Fashion tells us that black is the leading color, but bright, gay colors are also popular.

The skirts, whose hems are very uneven, are just a trifle longer than they have been. The sleeves on the dresses and coats are wide and loose and suggest the latest Parisian modes.

Fashion also decrees that coats are to be cut on the loose flaring lines, and the suits have the long graceful tailored effects.

You Will Be Happy to See and To Wear Such Charming Coats From $25.00 up

So many charming new coats have been arriving during the past week that our Coat Department is by far the most interesting one you will find in the city.

At the first touch of the materials you learn that the fabrics are much better than they have been in years past. The rich deep-pile materials of Bolivia, Beldyne, Rivola and other popular new weaves are enhanced with luxurious fur trimmings, and oftentimes you see a beautiful coat which is designed without fur and uses embroidery to give it its finishing touch of loveliness.

Some of the models are belted; others are cut on the graceful flaring lines. The colors are the prettiest you have seen for many years.

Have you seen those Charming Costume Blouses In Our Blouse Shoppe?

These charming new blouses are fashioned from black, navy and brown crepe de chine and are delightfully trimmed around the sleeves and the bottom with long silk braid. We are showing them at two prices—$8.95 and $9.95.

They can be worn with the Costume Blouse Slips, which are created from satin and are marked at $7.95.

Such Delightful New Dresses as These Will Not Be Found Anywhere From $16.50, $29.50 up

They are developed in beautiful satins and crepes as well as Tricotine, Poiret Twill and other popular new fabrics.

And what a host of gay new trimmings you will see—beads in great array, braids, ribbons and just lots of other new touches which add so much to the loveliness of the dresses.

The styles are so varied that you may be certain your selection will be exclusive, as well as pleasing and satisfactory.

Their prices range from $16.50, $29.50 and up.

PUTTING ERIE RAILROAD ON ITS FEET IS BIG JOB

W. A. Baldwin, Ohio Region Manager, Helping Do It.

HEAVY SHIPMENT OF POULTRY THROUGH HERE

Doing things right and doing them on time is the keynote in the life of William A. Baldwin, manager of the Ohio region of the Erie railroad. Baldwin is one of the widely known railroad men of the continent having held operating and executive positions with the Erie for many years.

Baldwin began railroading early in life and is one of the authorities on traffic and transportation in the country whose opinions are sought by other railroad officials of high rank.

Affable in his intercourse with his fellow men, fair in his judgments of men and the affairs of the world, he commands the confidence of men not connected with railroad affairs to a remarkable degree. He wastes few words and what he says goes straight to the root of the matter in hand.

Baldwin is of orthodox American stock and is a native of New York state. He believes in things American and has no time for divided allegiance. Nobody ever suspected him of harboring a hyphen in his system. His associates say that when Baldwin makes a friend the other party is a friend for life and so is Baldwin. Outside of his love for order, system and getting there on time, this is regarded as his dominating characteristic.

With infinite faith in the value of the Erie as a railroad property and in its destiny Baldwin has been laboring day and night since going to Youngstown to accomplish two things— the physical upbuilding of his region of the Erie and attracting to the road all the traffic possible.

In spite of the ebbing freight traffic on practically all lines of transportation in the country it is the pride of the officials of the Ohio region that car movements are still big and growing bigger. Baldwin believes the worst of the traffic slump is over and that both railroads and the industries are coming back good and strong.

Team work is another specialty of this railroad man whose region is larger that some entire railroad systems and whose business would make the mouth of many a railroad president water. The Ohio region of the Erie extends from Salamanca, New York on the east to Dayton on the southwest.

It is part of the gospel of the Erie headquarters in Youngstown that everything must work together and that there must be no cross currents or lost motion.

Movement of live poultry through Marion on the Erie has been and continues to be very brisk. A special train of twenty-eight cars filled with live poultry only passed through Marion Sunday bound for points east. Monday another train of thirty-two cars of fowls only passed through for a similar destination and today a train of twenty-four cars of live chickens went through. When it is considered that each car carries from 4,500 to 5,000 chickens, the size of this transportation can be more clearly realized.

Fast freight trains on the Erie of meat and fruit, known as manifest trains, or to the engineers as highball runs because of their speed, have been very numerous on the Erie of late. Last Saturday there were fifteen of these trains leaving Marion yards.

The roundhouse of the Railway Service company is working full time in order to keep up with the demand for engines and business is reported as brisk.

C. F. Bowman, traveling freight agent for the Erie, out of Columbus, was in Marion, Monday.

C. R. Marker, supervisor of communication, for the Hocking Valley, out of Columbus, was in Marion, Monday.

The annual inspection of bridges and buildings on the Hocking Valley was conducted today by a party composed of E. B. Colt, safety agent; T. McDonough, foreman of bridges and buildings, and C. R. Marker, supervisor of communication, all out of Columbus.

Planks which make up the crossing of the Hocking Valley at Center street were being torn up yesterday and today preparatory to installing new ties under the company's tracks at this place.

A. E. Wallace, manager of the Erie, Chicago region, out of Chicago, left Marion Sunday in his private car, No. 991, for Mansfield, accompanied by J. D. Owens, of Marion, president of the Railway Service company. In Mansfield they were joined by G. C. Manning, claim agent for the Erie, out of Youngstown, and they spent the day playing golf.

G. H. Craft, train despatcher for the Erie on the Cincinnati division, was in Columbus Monday.

Big Four train, No. 11, arriving in Marion from Cleveland, at 7:25 a. m., was made up of two sections Monday, the second being a special for Indianapolis. Special trains for points east on the Big Four arrived in Marion Sunday bound for that city.

Erie train, No. 3, had a special coach, from Marion to Huntington, to accommodate members of the Ladies' auxiliary, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, who are attending celebrations of the Huntington chapter.

On account of the G. A. R. encampment in Indianapolis, Erie train No. 3, handled extra equipment of two special coaches, from Youngstown to Marion, where they were turned over to the Big Four.

Miss Anna Keevan, clerk in the Erie general yardmaster's office, returned to work today after a ten days vacation.

Forty-five members of the Ladies' auxiliary, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, who left for Huntington, Indiana, in a special car yesterday morning at 10:45 o'clock on Erie train No. 3, returned today in a special car on Erie train No. 8, arriving in Marion at 6:10 a. m. Local members were helping the Huntington chapter celebrate its twentieth anniversary. A lodge meeting was held there, after which a banquet was served.

Captain Brown, of the Erie police, of Youngstown; H. R. Adams, Marion, superintendent, and C. P. Shaughnessey, trainmaster, Marion, with their staff of assistants were in the city today making the annual fire inspection trip over the Erie in a special car.—Mansfield News.

A meeting of the Erie-Kent division freight agents was held at the chamber of commerce assembly room at Ashland today. A. R. Tennis, district freight agent, and R. G. Henry, station supervisor, both of Marion, attended the meeting.

H. J. Kline, supervisor of transportation out of Youngstown, was in Marion this morning.

For some reason the story of a Canadian mistaking and drinking wood alcohol for ginger ale taxes our credulity to the utmost.

The man who does good work for the pleasure he gets out of it spends mighty little time hanging around waiting for somebody to commend him for doing it.

It's probably a fairly safe bet that Fatty Arbuckle is more than ever committed to the view that nobody loves a fat man.

It must not be inferred from the claim, that bootleg whisky isn't up to the standard, that the proportion of the wife-beating ingredient has in any way been reduced.

What we can not understand is how Serbia and Albania have the effrontery to pull off a war right under the nose of the league of nations.

An exchange, no doubt influenced by the Arbuckle case, editorially treats of "the status of the movies." Off hand, it's our guess that the enforced retirement of the so-called comedian will not do the movies any particular harm.

The cigaret smoking woman of Norway is said to have gone out of style. There is always ground for hope if one looks far enough for it.

If the reader was surprised by the statement of the weather people, that we have had a surplus of 800 degrees of temperature the past spring and summer, it probably was due to the fact that they did not particularize and state that all it was in June.

It's just a bit hard to understand why the picture post card people have never thought of printing on the message side, "Wish you were here."

The manner in which the Boy Scouts handle traffic out on a section of east Church street recently is decidedly pleasing. And for that matter, the unfailing good humor and willingness to detour manifested by vehicle drivers is also worthy of commendation. There's a lot more of the milk of human kindness in this old world of ours than some of us have realized.

Isn't it a rather significant fact that the proposal to tax gasoline a cent a gallon hasn't raised even so much as a murmur from the gasoline people.

There's always the streak of silver in the somber cloud, and in this connection it may be stated that a Buckeye farmer claims bank president claims that twice as many people are educated to the opening a savings account when money is scarce as when times are flush.

Still, it was Uncle Mr. Gladstone for the present moment is over in Europe. He may never have invented how the art of printing was to be [illegible].

The political [illegible] of the gubernatorial election [illegible] in New Mexico has diminished decidedly to the [illegible] of our Democratic friends [illegible].

Despite the fact that [illegible] demonstrate that the average man [illegible] furniture [illegible] there. It's our guess that the women will keep on [illegible] dance to her husband's [illegible] the time that [illegible].

In the [illegible] the [illegible] coal district of West [illegible] concerning the [illegible] and everybody with the exception of the [illegible] consumer. But come to think of it [illegible] are considered usually. If at all [illegible] interests are served.

ALSO FOOD FOR THOUGHT

NOT A POLITICAL MATTER.

Reprehending President Harding's appointment of Senator Oscar Underwood as a member of the conference on the limitation of armaments, the New York World says: "The function of the Democrats in this matter, if they have anything that resembles a principle or a purpose, is to keep themselves free from administration entanglements and try to force action at the conference." But the World was insistent that the nation as a whole should get into the foreign entanglements which the league of nations provided, notwithstanding the fact that it would have violated the principles laid down by Washington and Jefferson and adhered to by this nation ever since their day.

It seems impossible for the editor of the World to appreciate that the approaching conference is not a political caucus, or that Oscar Underwood was selected primarily because of his statesmanship and secondarily as a courtesy to the party which he represents. Mr. Underwood's statement on accepting the assignment is rebuke enough to the World, for he says: "There should not and can not be any party politics at the conference. Party politics should affect only domestic questions. When one crosses the three-mile limit goes out to sea, then the question becomes an international one. I think the four men representing the United States at the conference can stand as a unit on all questions."

It will be noted he says "representing the United States," not the Republican or the Democratic party. Nor was there any party politics in the great debate which terminated in the repudiation of the league of nations. On the one hand there were a few rubber-stamps who registered the will of the part administration, on the other a larger number composed of Republicans and Democrats, who represented the nation and who discarded politics to save the country. The World was not among those supporting that number.

THE FIRST TEST.

[Philadelphia Public Ledger.]

Taking everything into consideration, President Harding ought to be feeling pretty good. Down in New Mexico the Democrats have been on the war trail all summer, trying to take Senator Bursum's job away from him. They jammed the state with anti-Harding literature and sent out a bunch of Senator "Pat" Harrison's spellbinders.

Yes, the Democrats had a "black eye" all saved up for the Harding administration. The Republican majority in New Mexico is nothing to brag about at its best. Senator Bursum had a nasty handicap to overcome. He had a split in the Republican ranks as big as the Grand canyon. Secretary Fall, who used to be senator from New Mexico before he became a cabinet member, is not particularly fond of Bursum. Fall fought him on his appointment in the first place, and he fought him for the senate nomination. Then the [illegible] instead of going back and beating the stuffing and sawdust and everything out of the Democratic [illegible] hunting away in the Northwest.

As a matter of fact, the Harding [illegible] did a whole lot better [illegible]. The president put out a [illegible] work of the administration [illegible] offset the activities of the [illegible] committee. By [illegible] New Mexico was made a sort of a test of [illegible] the administration.

Senator Fursum [illegible] fight, and [illegible] with a majority [illegible] Bursum, New Mexico, [illegible] to make a [illegible] Democratic [illegible] Republicans who [illegible] to close.

[illegible] Bursum [illegible] the [illegible] concerning [illegible] and everybody [illegible] consumer. But [illegible] are considered [illegible] interests are served.

LIFE'S VAUDEVILLE.

[By Dr. James Ball Naylor.]

ROCK OF AGES.

"Rock of Ages, cleft for me!
Let me hide myself in Thee;
Let the water and the blood,
From Thy wounded side which flowed,
Be of sin the double cure—
Save from wrath and make me pure!"

How many thousands of persons have sung that old hymn!

How many other thousands have heard it sung!

For how many years it has brought assurance and solace to human hearts!

The song comforts.

The sentiment satisfies.

"Rock of Ages!"

A stalwart and staunch rock in a lone and desert land.

Its mere form shelters from the keen night wind.

"Cleft for me!"

In that cleft the weary wayfarer may hide.

There no storm can reach him.

There he is safe from wind and wet.

There the sand blast can not penetrate.

And there no robber hand can spy him out—and strip him of his goods and do him bodily harm.

The figure of speech is a beautiful one.

Whether we're devout believers or not, we can but appreciate it.

It has been sung; it has been recited; it has been illustrated on lantern slides and in gilt-decorated volumes.

It belongs with those other old hymns: "Lead Kindly Light," "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

But of all the persons who have ever sung it, or heard it sung, how many have yet sought to know who wrote it?

How many have ever inquired as to the circumstances under which it was composed?

Few—very few!

However, here are the facts in the case:

It was written by Augustus Toplady, an Englishman, many years ago.

The rock which inspired the author to write the well-known and well-loved hymn still stands just outside the village of Burrington Combbe, Somerset, England.

Mr. Toplady was out walking; a storm overtook him; and he sought shelter in a cleft of this great rock.

When the storm was over, he went home and wrote the hymn.

Last month the various Christian organizations of England held a great celebration in honor of the author.

They journeyed to the old Somerset rock; and there held their services. Ten thousand persons joined in singing the old hymn.

"Rock of Ages, cleft for me!"

FORTUNE SMILING ON MARION COUNTY NIMRODS

Hunters Say That the Sport Is Very Good.

With the squirrel season on in full force, Marion nimrods are returning home these nights after a day in the woods with nice strings. Furry squirrel tails can be seen tacked up on many a garage and back porch as trophies of the hunter's prowess.

Hunters say the sport is good this fall. Many unemployed are taking advantage of the free time to spend an occasional day ranging the woods. It not only keeps them busy and takes their minds from their troubles, they say, but supplies a spicy morsel for the family larder when fortune smiles and the hunter bags several of the nimble creatures of the wood.

Wives in many cases, accompany their husbands on hunting trips. In one case of this kind the woman proved a better hunter than her husband returning with a bigger string at the end of the day. The season ends October 20 but between now and then Marion sportsmen say they're going to give Mr. Squirrel a merry chase.

When I come in from milking the dummed brutes this morning my father asted me if there was a frost, and I said there wasn't, and he said he bet there would be one before long, and he guessed he would have to take me to the shoe store Saturday night and get me a pair of shoes, and I said if I had to wear shoes I guessed mebby I could find an old pair that I could wear till Christmas, and then he could get me the new ones for a Christmas present. I did not dast to look up but I could feel them all looking at me, and my father laid down his knife when he almost had it to his mouth and asted me if I was sarcasting him. I said "No sir." I wanted to ast him if he would get me another hole to put in the quilt on my bed for Christmas but I didn't dast.

When me and Jubilee went out of the manure hole to go over and get the bunch to take the cows out I was half ways out and then I seen Stringy setting under the hole with his back against our barn, and if I had wanted to climb back in I could not of done it because he had seen me, so I stood in front of him and asted him whose barn he was leaning against and he moved away so he would not touch it, and he said, "I ain't got anything against you." I said "I can lick you." He said, "I never done anything to you." I said, "I know it but I can lick you." And then he said, "I would just as soon be friends with you," and I said, "I would just as soon be friends with you, too, but I can lick you" and then he said "I know you can. You have certainly got a fine dog. Where you goin'?" I said, "I am goin' to the pasture; come on along."

So then he grinned and I did too and we went over to the vacant lot together and it almost knocked the gang's eyes out when they seen us. Nibs said "What are you two birds doing together, ain't you gonna fight?" I said, "What would we fight for? He knows I can lick him." Nibs said, "You bet I didn't say you could lick me till we had it." Stringy said, "And I bet you got your face pushed in." Nibs said,

It almost knocked the gang's eyes our when they seen us.

"What's that to you?" Stringy said, "Nothing only I have got enough sense to not get my face pushed in." Then they all give Nibs the laugh and we went to the pasture. Nibs said to him that I had bluffed him and he looked Nibs in the eye and said some fellas could bluff him and some couldn't, so then Nibs said to come on over to the skunk hole and see if we could see anything. I guess I wont run away from home. Jubilee would not like to have to sleep out doors. Stringy went out back of the poor house with us. He can wade almost across the river. He ain't such a bad fella. I went to bed early.

Without iron there is no red blood and no strength or endurance. Pale people lack iron in their blood. PRESCRIPTION WAS WRITTEN 65 YEARS AGO

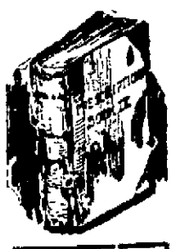
The True History of Father John's Medicine

One of the interesting places in Lowell, Mass. is the old apothecary shop on Merrimack street, established in 1827. This location is still a drug store although of course modernized in many departments. The old prescription books, however, have been preserved and form an interesting record covering nearly a century.

The Old Drug Store

Perhaps one of the most interesting books is that of the year 1855. In one of the pages of this book, under dated June 9th, 1855, is written the original prescription for Father John's Medicine. This prescription was compounded for the Reverend Father John O'Brien at the old drug store on that date, and was so successful in treating Father John's ailment, which was a severe cold and throat trouble, that he recommended the medicine to his friends and parishioners. In going to the drug store and calling for the medicine, they always asked for Father John's Medicine, and in this way the medicine got its name and was advertised.



The Old Prescription Book

Father John's Medicine is a safe family medicine for colds, coughs, throat troubles and as a tonic and body builder, because it does not contain opium, morphine, chloroform, and any other poisonous drugs, or alcohol but it all pure, wholesome nourishment.—Adv

MEN MAY BE SILLY, BUT WON'T LET SHOES PINCH

Ask Any Shoe Clerk in Marion and Find Out.

Men may insist on wearing their coats in hot weather, stick together on the straw hat edict of September 15 and swipe ma's talcum when they shave—but they don't want shoes that hurt their feet!

"What's a man want when he comes for shoes?" a reporter asked the shoe clerk who's made enough during his lifetime to afford an automobile without an electric starter.

"Comfort," he shouted. "Something that won't hurt their feet. They come in here wearing shoes a full size too large, because they wouldn't for worlds get a shoe that would pinch their pet corn. No sirree.

"First thing when I started to fit a man's shoes is to watch their corn pics. And watch their heels; they don't want shoes that rub their heels. Maybe they have a soft corn, maybe there isn't anything wrong with their feet, except their imagination—but you got to be very careful of them. They're the only feet they have.

"Once in a while a man comes in and tells us what a remarkable foot he has, that it's usually long and narrow, and that he can only wear certain kinds of shoes. He always knows just what size he wears—but if that pinches him a bit, wow! He won't wear shoes that hurt his feet. No matter how rain a man is, no matter how much money he has to spend on shoes, he's not going to have his little toesies all crowded together."

And then the shoe clerk who runs the car without a self-starter smiled!

"Want to know the reason a man won't wear shoes that hurt his feet?"

As was expected, the reporter eagerly assented.

"Every man goes through a certain period in his life when he lives for one thing—to look the picture of the fellows in the clothing ads in the magazines. During that period is the time he undergoes the exquisite torture of having his feet pinched.

"No woman likes a clod-hopper. No man ever went through barefoot boyhood without being a clod-hopper when he reached the age where cuff links and clean collars count.

"But I'll wager the store there isn't a man in Marion who'll wear shoes that hurt his feet. And I'll bet there isn't a woman in Marion who owns a pair of shoes that doesn't hurt her feet the first time she wears them."

VEIOCK ON SPORTS

Gotham is closer to a monopoly on the world's series today than ever before, though neither the men of McGraw nor Huggins have achieved a mathematical cinch on the pennants.

By taking three out of four from the Indians in the "little world's series," the Yanks increased their lead to more than two full games and New York is making ready to celebrate the winning of its first American league championship.

Huggins' team has five games to play. Three victories out of the five starts will clinch the pennant, for should the Indians win four games at Chicago, they would still be half a game behind New York.

The Giants are so firmly entrenched in the lead today, thanks to their victory at St. Louis, while the despised Phillies throttled the Pirates, that they need but one more victory to be sure of a tie should Pittsburgh win six straight games, and two victories to clinch the National league flag.

NUTTING SEASON WILL BE MIGHTY SLIM THIS YEAR

GATHERING NUTS AND EATING THEM IN PAST

Ah, It Is Great Fun in the Old Days When There Are Regular Parties.

The old fashioned Buckeye sport and the small boys delight when the frost sends the nuts tumbling from their husks, the ancient rites of nutting, will not be practiced in the vicinity of Marion this autumn, according to the reports from the country. This is not due to a gradual abandonment of the Buckeye sport, or to a lack of devotees to participate in the same, but the lack of nuts—that is the edible kind. The only kind of nuts that will be gathered along the country roads this year, farmers say, will be those that have fallen useless from passing flivvers, and these are a steady harvest the year round.

This is a slack season for the hard wood fruits. Shell barks are high and far between and the walnuts will be sufficient only for a good stain on the country boys' hands. Even the chipmunks are chattering in a storm of protest and are calling the trees profiteers and they are holding back on them. Even at that there is little one can do about it until some combination of the genius of Edison and Burbank is born in the land who will show folks how to grind nuts out of a food chopper or graft them on the plants in the window box, the farmers say. The number of hickory trees and walnut trees are decreasing in number year by year in the county in order that the newly weds may have walnut veneered furniture to carry them along the long long trail, or that the flivver owners may have hickory bows to hold up the one man top.

Succeeding Season Seldom Good.

Good harvest in nuts seldom come two years in succession farmers say. The reason is not stated. Like the many signs and omens by which forecasting is done it is merely taken to be a fact because such a thing nearly always happens. Perhaps, although this is the mere conjecture of one agriculturist—that latter term is used in its purest sense—that the moon has something to do with it. Maybe so. Some one might also suggest the influence of sun spots.

Is there any thing more melodious to the ear, the oldtimer said on the street corner this morning, than the pattering of the luscious shell barks in the dried leaves on the ground after one has heaved a hefty club among the top most branches. What tastes better to the boys for the between meal snatches than the oily kernels of the fresh walnut that has become approachable with hammer after drying for a few days on the roof of the wood shed, he asked reminiscing in the sports of his boyhood.

The New Era.

"There never was a winter," said the old-timer gazing off at the autumn haze on the horizon, "that my brothers and I didn't pack away at least a barrel of nuts to crack by the fire in stormy afternoons or long winter evenings. Ah! them was the days, but they're all gone now. Boys buy nuts already cracked over the counter now in some confectionery shop and feed them to the girls during the exciting moments in some picture show. 'Tain't what it used to be when the fall was n't complete without the many excursions into the woods after the big butternuts or sweet little shell barks."

He rolled his quid a little more to one side and went down the street slowly shaking his grizzled head.

At Death's Door

"I was talking with my neighbor, Mr. Webb, the other day regarding the great trouble his stomach had given him. He said he suffered 7 or 8 years, and had been almost at death's door a number of times from acute indigestion and bloating of gas, which seemed to shut off his heart action. He said he wouldn't have lived much longer if he hadn't taken Mayr's Wonderful Remedy when he did, which made a well man of him." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. NO LIFTING—NO STOOPING
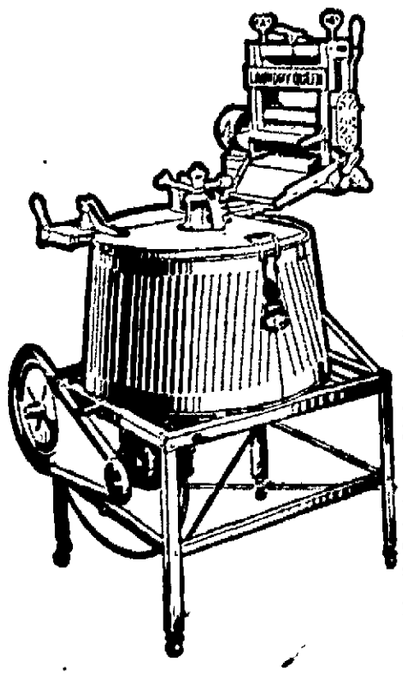
From the Laundry Queen to the Line



This is going after Blue Monday with a vengeance. In using the Laundry Queen with detachable bench, your tubs and baskets can be arranged so you need do no stooping or lifting from the time you put the soiled clothes into the machine until they are ready for the line.

All Laundry Queen machines are the same in every respect except the extra bench. As many as three of these benches can be used on one machine should the user desire the extra room.

One bench provides space for one extra tub, two for a tub and a basket and three for two extra tubs and a basket. When not in use these benches may be removed and placed under the main bench out of the way. Lugs on the extension fit over the main bench. No tools necessary to attach or remove.

When you buy a washing machine, get one that reduces wash day work to the minimum. Choose a machine that will do all the work—do it satisfactorily—and last not a few months or years, but a lifetime.

There is only one machine that will measure up to these requirements—the Laundry Queen. See it for yourself.
